

YESTERDAY'S NET CIRCULATION.
German Edition 52,555
English Morning Edition 409,985
Net Total, 462,540

NEW YORK JOURNAL

SUNDAY'S THE DAY
8 PAGES
All in Colors.
EXTRA

CITY PAYING FOR ORATORY.

Colonel Fellows Delivering Gold Arguments in the South.

Does Not Forget to Draw Regularly His $1,250 a Month.

No Probability That He Will Attend to His Duties Before Election.

ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGNS IN THE WEST.

Police Commissioner Offends in Lesser Degree, Because He Does Not Stay Away So Long and His Salary Is Smaller.

If you have any business with District Attorney John R. Fellows, don't go to his office in the Criminal Court building. He is not there. He won't be there for a week. He may drop in for a few minutes next week, but it is not likely. He is too busy, just now, arguing for "round money" in the South to pay much attention to the prosecution of criminals in New York, even though he draws $15,000 a year for doing the latter. He is still drawing this sum, though he has been making stump speeches for Palmer and Buckner ever since the Indianapolis Convention.

In fact, since before the Democratic convention in Chicago in July, he has felt that his country was in such serious need of education as to the financial question that it ought not to be despoiled of his services as an educator.

As a consequence, the prisoners in the Tombs have got along as best they could, though they slept three in a cell. But in Virginia and Maryland and Kentucky and West Virginia and Tennessee, and even away up in Maine, they have heard Colonel Fellows expound the "gold standard" principles at a salary of $15,000 a year paid by the city of New York.

Draws His Salary Regularly.
That Colonel Fellows is drawing his salary from the city at the rate of $1,250 a month is admitted at the Comptroller's office. That he is spending his time in the South making speeches for the "gold brick" Democracy is also admitted, though, incidentally, at the District Attorney's office. Up at the Palmer and Buckner headquarters they say that Mr. Fellows is one of the most public-spirited men in New York. "Colonel Fellows is extremely popular in the South," they say up there. He made several speeches in West Virginia some time ago, and the committee asked that he be sent back there. Since assigned him to work in the South. He left here Saturday on his last trip for work in Kentucky. His time is occupied for this week and next. Where he will go after that we don't know. He is in the hands of Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, who is travelling with him. Mr. Lindsay has control of his assignments and will probably send him still further to the South for the remainder of the campaign. I don't believe that he will be back in the city before election. He may come back for a few minutes, but we have too much work for him to allow him to stay here long.

There Are Others.
Colonel Fellows is not the only one who is or has been using the public's time to work for some of the gold-standard candidates. President Roosevelt, of the Police Board, only returned to the city Monday. He had been away for some time, and made a trip to the West, where he spoke several times for McKinley. Mr. Roosevelt was not away so long as was Colonel Fellows, and he does not draw so much money. His salary is only $5,000 a year.

Colonel Fred Grant, of the Police Board, has also been out of town frequently to lend his aid to the cause of McKinley. He does this for free. While Colonel Fellows is away his assistants are doing their best to look after the urgent affairs of the office. For this, Colonel Fellows has been away a good deal lately, but his absence has not interfered with the work of the office, said one of his assistants. In fact, this office has been in so good a condition as at present for the past ten years. He isn't neglecting business, you may be sure of that. We telegraph him two or three times every day.

FRANCE IS INDIGNANT.

Claims America Violated a Pledge in Announcing the Decision in the Tynan Case.

London, Oct. 14.—It is not publicly understood though Tynan is to be free without restrictions or will be put aboard ship for America. The French Government is very angry at Washington officials for publishing the promise of Tynan's liberation, given Mr. Eustis under a pledge of secrecy. The case has been vastly more important than the public suspected. The English demands and arguments were most earnest and remarkable. The English intended to strike a great blow at Irish organizations in America and elsewhere, which is why France desired time to frame his decision adroitly.

Extradition was demanded for complicity in the Phoenix Park assassination and for implication in the alleged plot at Autwerp, the dangerous character of which was urged on the French Government. England asserted that Tynan was No. 1 and was the man who gave the order for the murder of Burke and Cavendish.

M. Darlan has decided substantially as follows: There is insufficient proof that Tynan is No. 1, and there is insufficient proof connecting Tynan with the Phoenix Park murders.

NO DOUBT ABOUT MARYLAND.

Senator Guy Says that the State is Still on the Right Side.

Senator Charles L. Guy returned last night from a tour of Maryland, where he has been speaking under the auspices of the Democratic National Committee. In speaking of the situation in that State he said:

"Outside the city of Baltimore I found the people wild for Bryan, and talk of the State going for McKinley is absurd. Senator Gorman is making it interesting for the Republicans down there, and his efforts are certain to be rewarded with success. Maryland is sure for Bryan."

A MILD MADMAN CLOVE HIS SKULL.

Meyers, Boss Baker in the State Lunatic Asylum, Killed by Durrand.

Homicidal Mania Seized the Gentle Lunatic Employed in the Bake Shop.

He Split Meyers's Head with an Axe and Then Stood Silent, Quiet, Harmless.

THE MANIA TO KILL HAD PASSED.

Other Lunatics Seized Durrand and He Was Put in a Straight Jacket—Now He Lies in a Cell a Very Mild Madman, Indeed.

A Russian, one Durrand, a "mild" patient in the Manhattan State Hospital for the Insane on Ward's Island, developed homicidal mania yesterday. That is, the desire to kill seized him, possessed him. So he clove a man's skull with an axe. Having taken a human life, having gratified his desire, this Durrand stood silent, offered no resistance while other lunatics seized him.

The authorities of the State Hospital engage boss bakers, cooks and laundrymen, who are generally regarded as sane, who live outside of the hospital. Under these, in authority, the "mild" patients are put to work in the bakeshop, the kitchen and the laundry. The asylum bakers and kitchen occupy a two-story brick building, which stands 200 feet east of the main building. Theodore Meyers, who lived at No. 2310 First avenue, was the boss baker. He had one assistant, sane. The other bakers are lunatics of the hospital, inoffensive lunatics, those who the doctors

One was this Durrand, whose first name no one seems to know. He is about twenty-five years old and a sturdy fellow. He was sent to the asylum two years ago. Then he had a mild form of dementia. He was never violent. Soon he showed great improvement; he was intelligent, and tractable. So, a year ago, he was put to work in the bake shop. There he has been ever since, obeying orders, doing the work he was ordered to.

"Durrand," said Meyers yesterday, "go out and chop some kindling wood."

Durrand picked up a sharp axe that lay in a corner of the bake shop. The axe had been kept there to chop wood. As this mild patient stepped out of the door he uttered something that no one understood.

"What's that fellow grumbling about?" said Meyers suspiciously, and he walked out after the Russian.

As he crossed the doorway Durrand turned on Meyers, confronted him, brandishing the axe. The other bakers looked on, paralyzed by fear. The gleam of murder was in Durrand's fevered eyes as he sawing the axe at the man whom he must kill.

Meyers looked once into those eyes, and, terrified, tried to dodge. The axe descended in Durrand's strong arms. Meyers was hit crouching. The blade struck the back of his head a little to the right side and almost cut in half his skull.

Meyers fell dead. Durrand stood stock still. The murderous mania had passed in the instant the axe fell. He did not say a word. Made bolder by his quiet and his silence, the other lunatics rushed out and seized him. Dr. William A. Macy, medical superintendent of the male department, who was in charge of the hospital, ordered him into a straitjacket. So the keepers quickly relieved the inmates of their prisoner and hurried Durrand into a cell. There he lay last night in a straitjacket, quiet, silent—an extremely mild madman.

Dr. Alexander E. Macdonald, superintendent of the hospital, who was absent at the time of the murder—if so it can be called—was informed of Meyers's death and returned to the island. Dr. Macdonald said Meyers should not have permitted Durrand to handle an axe.

"That fellow Durrand, was seized with homicidal mania," said Dr. Macdonald, who knows very much about insanity.

Police Officer McElroy, of the 34th Precinct, who was on duty at the time, said that one hundred and fourth street station, located on Ward's Island, reported Meyers's death to the police. Naturally they were not much interested. Here a lunatic was killed by a lunatic. And the lunatic was already in a straitjacket. Naturally the law and its officers were not interested.

Meyers, who was thirty-four years old, leaves a widow and family.

HUNTINGTON'S HOUSE.

Said to Have Purchased the J. M. Waterbury Mansion for $200,000.

It is generally understood in well-informed real estate circles that Collis P. Huntington, the New York railroad magnate, has purchased the J. M. Waterbury mansion, adjoining Pelham Park, for $200,000, and that the transfer of deeds will be made next week. The house originally cost $300,000. It stands in a beautiful spot, overlooking Pelham Bay, surrounded by a private park, laid out in broad lawns, flower beds, woodland dells, and other charming retreats.

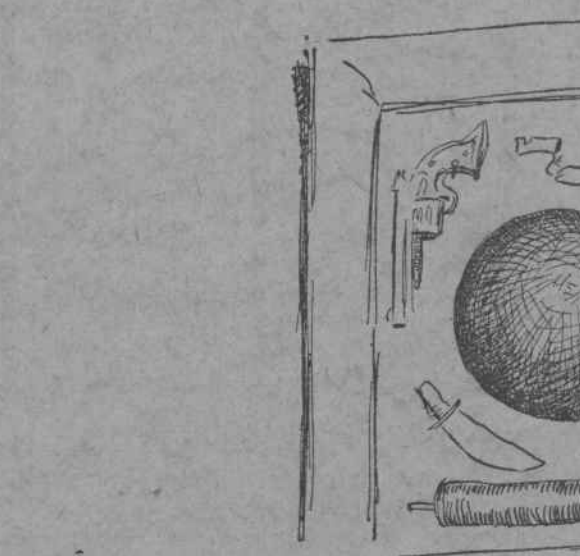

There is also a large stable, complete in every appointment, conservatory and lodge. The entrance hall and staircase hall of the mansion are plastered with Italian marble. Throughout the reception, drawing and dining rooms, library and elsewhere the decorations are in white, gold and blue, while the ceilings are solid pieces of scroll work in bold relief. The residence will be refurbished on an elaborate scale, and occupied by November 4 by Archibald M. Huntington, a son of the purchaser. The Waterbury family will occupy the Furman Park house, near by.

SPAIN ADMITS A DEFEAT.

General Castellanos's Forces Whipped by the Insurgents and Compelled to Retreat.

Madrid, Oct. 14.—A special dispatch to the Imparcial from Havana says another engagement has been fought between the insurgents and Spanish troops at Cascorro, Canagüez, where the place was recently besieged for thirteen days by the rebels. In this battle the force of General Castellanos, the Spanish leader, was compelled to retreat. The loss of the rebels is estimated at two hundred.

MR. LAUTERBACH'S ATTITUDE.

"We May Not Abide by the Result."

HIGHWAYMAN AT SEVEN.

John Lynch, a Diminutive Boy, One of Three Who Rob a Business Man's Son.

Policeman Scheuing, of the East Sixty-seventh Street Station, entered the station house at a little after 9 o'clock last night, accompanied by two men and two boys. One of the latter, the prisoner, was so small that when Sergeant Burgoine was told that it was a case of highway robbery he was obliged to come out from behind the desk before he could see the prisoner. A ragged urchin, seven years old, the accused said he was John Lynch and that he lived at No. 319 East Sixtieth street.

The complaint in the case is Solomon Levy, of No. 1173 Second avenue, whose father is a butcher at that number. The other Levy sent Solomon out with two cash orders, one of which was to be delivered in Fifty-seventh street, and the other at No. 319 East Sixtieth street, in the house where Lynch lives. When he came out of the house Solomon had two fifty-cent pieces and a twenty-five-cent piece in his pocket. As he was walking toward Second avenue he was assaulted, knocked down, gagged and his pockets rifled of the dollar and twenty-five cents which he had collected. Young Levy ran to his father's store and gave the alarm. Mr. Levy and his son hastened out and found Policeman Scheuing, and on the way toward Third avenue young Levy saw Lynch, the prisoner, and pointed him out to the policeman.

Lynch told the policeman that a boy named Burke and another boy named McCarty, of No. 324 East Sixtieth street, were his accomplices in the crime. Lynch was sent to the Gerry society rooms.

POLICE SHOOT DOWN RIOTERS.

Three Members of a Mob Killed and Others Wounded at Demerara.

Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 14.—A dispatch received here from Georgetown, British Guiana, says that alarming riots have occurred among the coolies in Demerara. The ringleaders of the rioters were arrested, and while they were being taken to jail by the police the latter were attacked by the mob and were finally obliged to fire upon their assailants. The fire of the officers was effective, three of the rioters being killed and many others wounded. The rioting was the outcome of a strike among the laborers against a reduction in wages recently made.

HORSES KILL AND MAIM.

William Deth, of Paterson, Killed and Maimed by Runaways.

One man was killed, a woman was probably fatally injured, and two others were badly hurt by a team of runaway horses that dashed through Union Hill and West Hoboken late yesterday afternoon.

William Deth, sixty-eight years old, of No. 462 Market street, Paterson, where he is a wealthy merchant, left home for a drive yesterday with his twenty-two-year-old nephew, William Stone. They were driving down Gardner street, West Hoboken, when the team of spirited horses attached to their light wagon took fright at a piece of paper which blew across the street and dashed wildly toward the plank road.

As the frightened animals turned into the plank road they knocked down an unknown elderly man, who escaped with slight bruises. The runaways reached the Hudson Boulevard, where they suddenly swerved. Deth was dragged over the dashboard, falling upon his head as he struck the ground. His skull was fractured, and he died a few minutes later.

As the galloping horses passed Givernand's silk mills, which are on the road to Secaucus, the several hundred operatives, just leaving, filled the street. Through them plunged the maddened team, and three women lay upon the ground as they disappeared. Emily Rine, twenty years old, of No. 130 Columbia street, Union Hill, was the most badly injured, and will probably die. Her legs were broken, chest crushed in, and skull fractured. Mary Schuner, eighteen years old, of Lewis street, Union Hill, had her left ankle broken and two ribs crushed. Mary Essonfelder, twenty-two years old, of Forum street, Union Hill, had her right foot smashed, and was internally injured. All were carried into the mill and attended by a physician, after which they were sent home. The horses were stopped at Home's store. Stone was still in the carriage, although in a state of collapse. Mr. Deth's body was late last night conveyed to Paterson.

"MRS. CHRIST" IS INSANE.

The Little Girl She Abducted from Boston and Tramped with to Maine Restored to Her Parents.

Boston, Oct. 14.—"Mrs. Mary E. Christ," who recently induced little Esther Dougherty, of No. 1 Foster place, to leave her home and who was later arrested with the child in Ellor, Me., and brought back here, has been declared to be insane.

The woman tramped the whole way to Ellor, leading the little one by the hand. She was apparently crazed on the subject of religion, and told the wildest tales of her relationship with a Catholic priest, to whom she said she had been married in New York, in which city, she said, they had lived at "No. 24 Eighty-second street."

The child was restored to her parents, and "Mrs. Christ" will be sent to an asylum.

None of the tenants in the buildings at either No. 224 East Eighty-second street or No. 224 West Eighty-second street, ever heard of a woman named Christ, and the janitors and agents of the premises say that no such person ever lived there. Neither could they remember a woman answering the description of the one under arrest in Boston.

EVERY ONE IS CONFIDENT.

Officers of the State Bryan and Sewall Clubs Give Their Views on Their Situation Locally.

Following below are statements from presidents or secretaries of Bryan and Sewall clubs of this State, obtained yesterday at their conference at the Bartholdi Hotel. All were written in answer to this request: "Will you write for publication in the Journal over your own signature your views on the situation in your part of the State?"

Why William Parry Was Happy.

Most people in New York who are worth knowing know William Parry, stage manager of the Metropolitan Opera House. The woman who met him yesterday exclaimed: "How very happy Mr. Parry looks!" Some of the men said: "Parry must have hit a winner." He was apparently happy; he had hit a winner—$7 to 1 chance. A few boy babies, their first child, had blessed Mr. Parry and his wife, who have been married seventeen years.

SILVER TO RULE THE NEXT HOUSE.

White Metal Men Feel Certain That They Will Have a Working Majority.

One Hundred and Ninety Members, They Claim, Will Vote for Free Coinage.

Democratic Committee Expects That Even Greater Strength Will Be Developed.

RESULT IS DUE LARGELY TO FUSION.

Arrangements of Democrats and Populists So Successful That They Are Sure of the Election of Men in Favor of Their Financial Views.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Aside from the result of the Presidential election there is great interest taken in the composition of the next House of Representatives, and it is reasonably certain that the silver forces will have a majority sufficiently large for all purposes and yet not so unwieldy as to retard the action of business.

From a comparison of the chances of the silver in all the States it is now assured that there will be at least 190 men who will vote for free coinage when the occasion arises.

The following table shows the strength of the silver men in the next House:

State	Strength
Alabama	1
Arkansas	1
California	2
Colorado	2
Florida	1
Georgia	1
Idaho	1
Illinois	1
Indiana	1
Iowa	1
Kansas	1
Kentucky	1
Louisiana	1
Massachusetts	1
Michigan	1
Minnesota	1
Mississippi	1
Missouri	1
Montana	1
Total	190

These figures are regarded as being of a most conservative character, and the Democratic Committee claims an even larger vote in the House on any proposition looking to the remodeling of silver.

What Hanna Has to Do To Win.

SAVINGS BANKS OF CONNECTICUT.

Name, Deposit, By Hanna, Amount.

Bank of Connecticut	$100,000	$100,000	$100,000
Bank of Hartford	50,000	50,000	50,000
Bank of New Haven	25,000	25,000	25,000
Bank of Waterbury	10,000	10,000	10,000
Bank of Meriden	5,000	5,000	5,000
Bank of Middletown	2,500	2,500	2,500
Bank of Danbury	1,250	1,250	1,250
Bank of Bridgeport	625	625	625
Bank of New Britain	312.50	312.50	312.50
Bank of Shelton	156.25	156.25	156.25
Bank of Southington	78.125	78.125	78.125
Bank of Westport	39.0625	39.0625	39.0625
Bank of Eastford	19.53125	19.53125	19.53125
Bank of Plainville	9.765625	9.765625	9.765625
Bank of Avon	4.8828125	4.8828125	4.8828125
Bank of Berlin	2.44140625	2.44140625	2.44140625
Bank of Colchester	1.220703125	1.220703125	1.220703125
Bank of East Granby	0.6103515625	0.6103515625	0.6103515625
Bank of East Haddam	0.30517578125	0.30517578125	0.30517578125
Bank of East Hampton	0.152587890625	0.152587890625	0.152587890625
Bank of East Lyme	0.0762939453125	0.0762939453125	0.0762939453125
Bank of Eastford	0.03814697265625	0.03814697265625	0.03814697265625
Bank of Eastford	0.019073486328125	0.019073486328125	0.019073486328125
Bank of Eastford	0.0095367431640625	0.0095367431640625	0.0095367431640625
Bank of Eastford	0.00476837158203125	0.00476837158203125	0.00476837158203125
Bank of Eastford	0.002384185791015625	0.002384185791015625	0.002384185791015625
Bank of Eastford	0.0011920928955078125	0.0011920928955078125	0.0011920928955078125
Bank of Eastford	0.00059604644775390625	0.00059604644775390625	0.00059604644775390625
Bank of Eastford	0.000298023223876953125	0.000298023223876953125	0.000298023223876953125
Bank of Eastford	0.0001490116119384765625	0.0001490116119384765625	0.0001490116119384765625
Bank of Eastford	0.00007450580596923828125	0.00007450580596923828125	0.00007450580596923828125
Bank of Eastford	0.000037252902984619140625	0.000037252902984619140625	0.000037252902984619140625
Bank of Eastford	0.0000186264514923095703125	0.0000186264514923095703125	0.0000186264514923095703125
Bank of Eastford	0.00000931322574615478515625	0.00000931322574615478515625	0.00000931322574615478515625
Bank of Eastford	0.000004656612873077392578125	0.000004656612873077392578125	0.000004656612873077392578125
Bank of Eastford	0.0000023283064365386962890625	0.0000023283064365386962890625	0.0000023283064365386962890625
Bank of Eastford	0.00000116415321826934814453125	0.00000116415321826934814453125	0.00000116415321826934814453125
Bank of Eastford	0.000000582076609134674072265625	0.000000582076609134674072265625	0.000000582076609134674072265625
Bank of Eastford	0.0000002910383045673370361328125	0.0000002910383045673370361328125	0.0000002910383045673370361328125
Bank of Eastford	0.00000014551915228366851806640625	0.00000014551915228366851806640625	0.00000014551915228366851806640625
Bank of Eastford	0.000000072759576141834259033203125	0.000000072759576141834259033203125	0.000000072759576141834259033203125
Bank of Eastford	0.0000000363797880709171295166015625	0.0000000363797880709171295166015625	0.0000000363797880709171295166015625
Bank of Eastford	0.00000001818989403545856475830078125	0.00000001818989403545856475830078125	0.00000001818989403545856475830078125
Bank of Eastford	0.000000009094947017729282379150390625	0.000000009094947017729282379150390625	0.000000009094947017729282379150390625
Bank of Eastford	0.0000000045474735088646411895751953125	0.0000000045474735088646411895751953125	0.0000000045474735088646411895751953125
Bank of Eastford	0.00000000227373675443232059478759765625	0.00000000227373675443232059478759765625	0.00000000227373675443232059478759765625
Bank of Eastford	0.000000001136868377216160297393798828125	0.000000001136868377216160297393798828125	0.000000001136868377216160297393798828125
Bank of Eastford	0.0000000005684341886080801486968994140625	0.0000000005684341886080801486968994140625	0.0000000005684341886080801486968994140625
Bank of Eastford	0.00000000028421709430404007434844970703125	0.00000000028421709430404007434844970703125	0.00000000028421709430404007434844970703125
Bank of Eastford	0.000000000142108547152020037174224853515625	0.000000000142108547152020037174224853515625	0.000000000142108547152020037174224853515625
Bank of Eastford	0.0000000000710542735760100185871124267578125	0.0000000000710542735760100185871124267578125	0.00